Createspace, United States, 2012. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Susan Litsios (illustrator). 234 x 156 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Can a clever young girl named Sara find the cause of a mysterious illness striking many of her classmates? Through this delightful, educational story of one curious girl's search for the mysterious cause of a poisoning in her school, children and adults alike can discover the fascinating world of microbes, and how these perplexing invisible things can affect us all. With an easy-to-read text by scientist Sara Andersson and charming illustrations by Susan Litsios, this suspenseful story of science and food safety offers an in-depth look through the microscope, which makes the basics of microbiology and food safety accessible to anyone. The book is written primarily for children age seven to twelve; however, its message is for people of all ages. Invisible Things shares the story of Sara, a young girl who is home from school, recovering from the flu. When she discovers that many of her classmates have suddenly fallen sick-apparently from something they ate - she is drawn into figuring out what has caused the illness. With the help of her cat Rostam, Sara puts on her detective hat and is soon immersed in the invisible world of microbes, quickly determining the danger they can pose to health. She soon tracks down the source of the microbial agent that has sickened her friends, and through the investigation she learns about the various microbial agents and the source of contamination of foods. Along with Sara, readers will learn the often simple, but always important, measures that are needed to protect themselves from foodborne illnesses, from washing cooking equipment to refrigerating meat. Invisible Things is a translation from the original French version entitled Les...
