Brantley, of Georgia, in the House of Representatives, Thursday, February 22, 1900 The House being in Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union, and having under consideration the bill (H. R. 8245) to regulate the trade of Puerto Rico, and for other purposes - Mr. Brantley said: Mr. Chairman: What is to be done with the Philippines? What is to be their future? What is to be the policy of the United States Government with reference to them? These are questions that interest and concern many people. They deeply concern not only the Filipinos, but as well the people of America, and the answers to them are anxiously awaited by the people of the civilized world. Their importance can not be overstated or overestimated. Upon the answers to them depend the hopes, the aspirations, and the destiny of a people struggling for liberty; and, more than this, there are many who believe that, unless all history be false,...
